8. ITEM PASS/FAIL CRITERIA

Recommendations will be made upon the successful completion of all test cases. The primary investigator of the study will make these decisions in accordance with the results of the experiment. It is not possible to delete the software foundation until all of its bugs have been detected. When the final program is released, there will always be some bugs in the system. The test leader and project manager will consequently decide whether to release the application as well as which test numbers will pass. Only the project manager and test lead are in charge of it. In this example, we shall remove the gadget if 94% of the test cases are successfully finished within the test session.
